

AdvertisementAcademic Coordinator.

A 100% variable time position in the Berkeley Institute of the Environment, UC Berkeley, beginning August 1, 2005. The Academic Coordinator will coordinate development and implementation of a research and innovation program that formulates diffuse environmental issues into tractable thematic units and supports faculty research on common issues; an education program for undergraduate and graduate training that is embedded in disciplinary excellence that will integrate environmental literacy education across the breadth of the undergraduate curriculum; and a leadership program that translates theory and understanding into solution and action. Salary: $54,240 - $75,324. Advanced degree and experience in research or administration of environmental issues or commensurate experience.

Submit CV, statement of research and administrative experience, and three reference letters to: Barbara A. Lane, Dean's Office, 101 Giannini Hall, University of California, Berkeley, CA 94720-3100. Applicants should ask referees to review the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality found at <http://apo.chance.berkeley.edu/evalltr.html>. Review of applications will begin July 13, 2005.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.